This policy also complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

4. Definitions

A pupil has SEND if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, or
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Each Local Advisory Body (LAB) must publish information on their websites about the implementation of the policy for pupils with SEND. This information is called the school's SEND Information Report. The information published should be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year should be updated as soon as possible. Every school within the Trust will maintain their school SEND School Information Report to meet the needs specific to their school. The information required is set out in the Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014. Schools should ensure that the information is easily accessible and is set out in clear, straightforward language. It should give details of the school's contribution to the Local Offer, commonly known as the school offer.

2. How to identify pupils with SEND and assess their needs?

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and key stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEND.

Individual children's special educational needs are identified through teacher, parent or other adult concerns over the four broad areas of need:

- communication and interaction
- cognition and learning
- social, mental and emotional health
- sensory and/or physical needs

These causes for concern are investigated by the SENDCO who uses a range of methods to gather information about the child's needs in all four broad areas of need. These methods include:

- Observations
- Screening tools
- Specialised assessments
- Behaviour logs
- Assessment data
- Specialist outside agency reports

Regular pupil progress and vulnerable children meetings ensure that no individual children are overlooked. If the child's needs appear to be sufficiently severe, the specialised expertise of an outside agency might be called upon.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

3. How we consult and involve pupils and parents?

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record and discussed with their parents.

We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEND support.

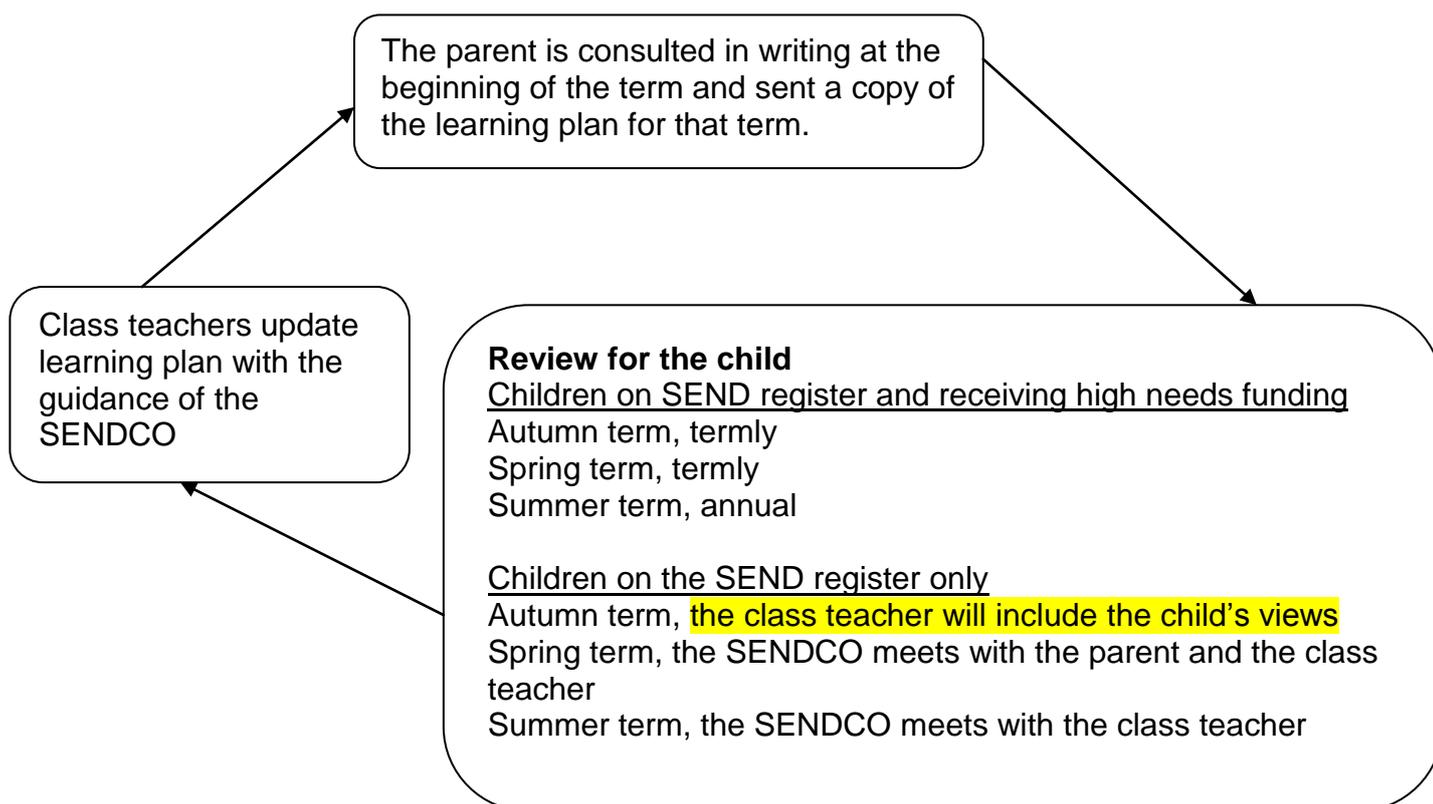

If the child is identified as having special educational needs the parents and the SENDCO will meet to agree a learning plan and the process for placing the child on the special educational needs register will be explained. A copy of the learning plan will be given to the parents with a record of this initial meeting.

We provide further updates at parent's evenings and through their children's reports.

When concerns are raised parents and child will be consulted as part of the information gathering process.

The parents and child will then be consulted through the special education needs review cycle shown below.

The Special Educational Needs Review Cycle

4. How we assess and review pupils' progress towards outcomes?

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review.

The class or subject teacher will work with the SENDCO to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment and behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly. Each outcome in the learning plan is assessed during the review process. It is decided what progress the child has made towards to outcome. The progress towards the outcome is recorded on the learning plan via Provision Mapping online software along with the attendees, comments and actions.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress.

5. How do we go about supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood?

Kensington Primary School has a holistic curriculum for all children, for children with SEND this is cross referenced to the SEND code of practice broad areas of need.

We will share information with the secondary school the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this.

A smooth transition for children with identified SEND is ensured in the following ways;

- Transition meetings between the current year's class teacher and the new class teacher in July
- Access to all relevant information for the current year's class teacher and the new class teacher prior to the transition meeting in July
- Access to all relevant documents held on individual pupils via Provision Mapping online software and/or securely via the school's system
- Follow up on transition in the first half term of Autumn as part of the vulnerable children meeting and PPA session
- SENDCO's attendance at the Newham secondary transition day
- Follow up secondary transition arrangements for children with a high level of need in line with the secondary school's policy
- Follow up with outside agencies in line with the services policy
- Handover sessions between current year's key worker and next key worker for children receiving high needs funding
- Transition book to be made over the second half of the Summer term with the children who require them i.e. some children receiving high needs funding, to be taken home over the Summer

- Individual personalised planning for children working at pre-year band to be handed over during joint planning sessions in July
- Visits to nurseries and day-care settings for admissions to EYFS
- Visits to EYFS for new admissions in July
- The earliest admission slots for children identified with potential need in EYFS
- Phased induction for EYFS children with clear high levels of need who have not yet been able to settle within the settling period

6. What are our approaches to teaching pupils with SEND?

Whilst teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class, high quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEND. This will be differentiated for individual pupils.

We believe that all teachers are teachers of children with SEND. Our priority for all children is that they receive high quality teaching. The curriculum at our school is differentiated to match the children's different needs.

Differentiation can include:

- Different tasks
- Different grouping
- Different resources
- Different pace
- Different outcome
- Different dialogue and support
- Different assessment

Where children are working below the level of the school's curriculum we use development matters as the basis of the curriculum. This is aligned with the school's curriculum to ensure a broad and balanced curriculum. We believe that approaches to teaching should cater for the whole child, therefore, where children require teaching that is not provided for in the school's curriculum or development matters we will provide for this.

Teaching may include;

- Life skills curriculum
- Sensory curriculum
- Overcoming barriers to learning i.e. speech, language and communication needs, social, emotional and mental health needs and/or physical and sensory needs

For a few children a personalised curriculum may be provided using MAPP software and personalised planning.

We will also provide the following interventions:

- Speech and language intervention
- Specific learning interventions for English and Maths
- Nurture groups

- Therapies such as Place2Be, Art therapy, Speech Bubble

7. How do we make adaptations to the curriculum and learning environment?

Adaptations are made where it would be a reasonable adjustment to do so in order to enable access and engagement. Staff liaises with the SENDCO in a case by case basis to agree on the reasonable adjustments to be made. Parent will be involved and all requests by parents for reasonable adjustments to be made will be considered by the SENDCO in liaison with the relevant staff.

The schools in the Trust visit children with high needs funding may be accompanied by an adult providing direct supervision and support. Risk assessments and care plans ensure all staff concerned are familiar with individual pupil's current needs and difficulties during trips. An individual risk assessment is kept for every child who requires one, this included children receiving high needs funding, mobility difficulties and with health care plans.

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.
- Adapted learning environment in KS1 for children who are yet to access learning in whole class settings

8. What additional support for learning do we offer?

We have teaching assistants who are trained to deliver interventions such as speech and language therapy.

Teaching assistants will support pupils on a 1:1 basis when required, this is always with a view to move towards full independence over time.

Teaching assistants will support pupils in small groups in class and when an intervention cannot be carried out effectively in class.

We work with the following agencies to provide support for pupils with SEND:

- NHS Speech and language services
- Educational psychologists
- Occupational therapy
- Language, communication and interaction service
- Sensory service

9. What expertise and staff training is offered?

Staff in the Inclusion team is well qualified and appropriately trained. Senior members of the team are graduates at Masters and Bachelors levels and have Qualified Teacher Status. The SENDCO has gained the national award in special educational needs coordination. Support staff have access to training courses offered by the school, local authority and outside agencies. All support staff working with children on the autistic spectrum have access to Autism Education Trust training as some as possible upon taking on such roles.

Our SENDCO has 20 year's experience in this role.

They are allocated time to manage SEND provision in line with national guidance for completion of essential SENDCo duties.

We have a team of 25 teaching assistants, including 2 higher level teaching assistants (HLTAs) and three cover supervisors.

The school has input from the trusts learning support teacher one day a week and speech and language therapist 2 days a week.

In the last academic year, staff have been trained in ELKLAN, Team Teach, first aid, AET and phonics.

We use specialist staff for intensive speech and language therapy and pre-formal/semi-formal provision for children receiving high needs.

10. How do we go about securing equipment and facilities?

When children need to have additional input beyond high quality first teaching the extent and nature of support, equipment and facilities offered to pupils with SEND has been matched to their needs. These needs are identified through progress data and levels of attainment. Further information has been gathered through assessments, the results of meetings with teachers, the pupil and parents/carers and, in some cases, recommendations from outside agencies.

As with all areas related to children within their class, the class teacher is responsible for ensuring that provision is appropriate. In doing this, there will be times it is necessary and/or useful to involve other members of staff.

This may include:

- The SENDCO
- The phase leader
- The EAL lead
- Year group colleagues
- Support staff
- Assistant heads
- The deputy head
- The head teacher
- The speech and language therapist

- Outside agencies
- Other colleagues

The SENDCO head teacher and governing body establish a clear picture of the resources that are available to the school. They consider their strategic approach to meeting special educational needs. Staff will liaise with the SENDCO if they intend to propose changes to targeted or specialised provision. The SENDCO will consult the head teacher if necessary before deciding on agreeing the changes. These could include;

- Changing an intervention
- Introducing a new intervention
- Ceasing an intervention
- Long-term redeployment of staff deployed to high needs funded duties

The school ensure that children receive both a broad and a balanced curriculum, maintain strong self-esteem, physical health and development and a high level of engagement whilst also providing for interventions. This is ensured by;

- Withdrawing children from class only where the intervention cannot be carried out in class
- Where possible providing interventions at the time the subject would have been taught in class
- Withdrawing children only from subjects that are not a relative strength
- Withdrawing children from subjects that do not pertain to health and wellbeing i.e. P.E. or SRE
- Withdrawing children from no more than 5% of the curriculum content except in exceptional circumstances i.e. the child requires personalised curriculum element totalling more than 5%

It is the responsibility of the local authority to provide additional top-up funding (high needs funding) where the cost of the special educational provision required meeting the needs of an individual pupil exceeds the nationally prescribed threshold. The school are accountable to the local authority with regard to this funding and how it is spent to meet the individual's special educational needs. The school reports to the local authority via the annual review process involving the parents and the child. The action plan/SEND support plan element of the report outlines the use of high needs funding. The class teacher is responsible for ensuring that what has been agreed at the annual review is implemented. The SENDCO will monitor the agreed actions to ensure they are being followed and to provide guidance and support where needed.

11. How do we evaluate the effectiveness of SEND provision?

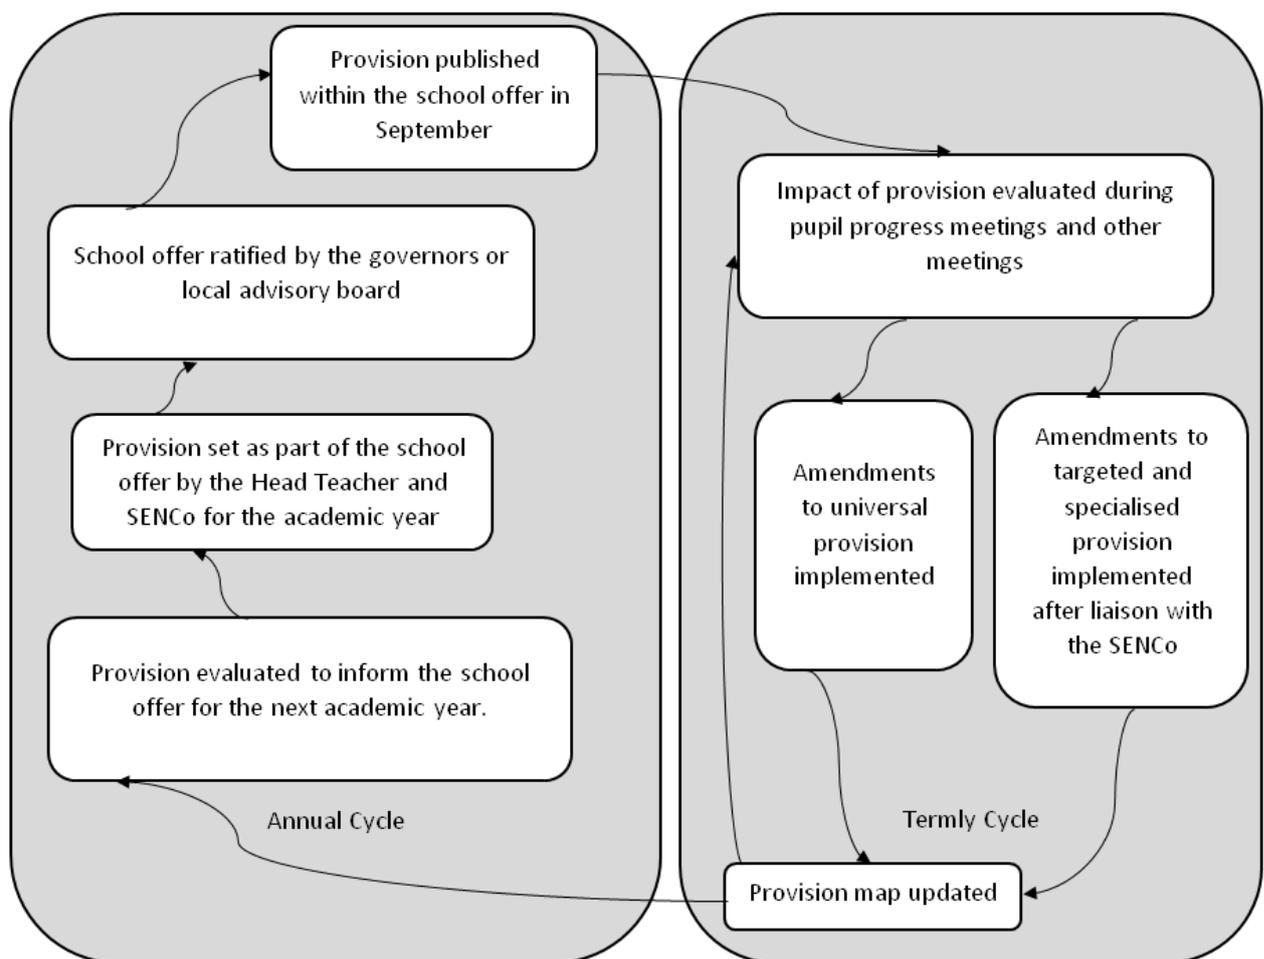

The school's data report provides detailed information on the impact of provision on attainment and progress. Regular evidence trails provide a range of evidence that is available for evaluation of provision in general and review meeting are an opportunity to evaluate provision for individual children. Provision Mapping online software supports the recording and evaluation of provision. These are all used to inform the provision evaluation cycle shown below. Regular pupil progress meetings form a key element of the cycle. Case studies gather information on a small representative selection of pupils and these case studies include some initiated by a lack of progress over time as well as cases where progress has been excellent.

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEND by:

- Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their outcomes each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions after a minimum of 6 and maximum of 12 weeks
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENDCO
- Using provision map and assessment data to measure progress
- Holding annual reviews for pupils with statements of SEND or EHC plans

Provision Evaluation Cycle

12. How does the school support looked after pupils with special educational needs?

The school uses the Vulnerable Children Meeting to ensure that looked after children receive appropriate support. The child protection lead and the SENDCO liaise closely with regard to children who are both looked after and have special educational needs.

13. What is the admissions procedure for pupils with special educational needs?

The school cater for the admission of pupils with special educational needs and disabilities through liaison with the local authority and the parents including the consultation process for pupils with education health care plans. The SENDCO is notified by the school's admission team as soon as the special educational need or disability is known. The SENDCO takes appropriate action to admit the child in the shortest amount of time possible or within two weeks by making the reasonable adjustment necessary. However, on rare occasions this may take longer if health and safety would be compromised. The SENDCO will also liaise with previous settings, exchanging information and documentation. In a few cases the SENDCO will visit the children in the setting.

Mid – term admissions of pupils with identified special educational needs include close liaison between both schools and an exchange of information and documentation and between the SENDCO and the school's admission team. The SENDCO liaises with the EYFS team during admission at the beginning of the school year, home visits are a key element in identifying high needs on or shortly after entry.

14. How accessible is the school building?

There is disabled access to the main floors of the building via the main entrance. There are disabled toilets in strategic areas of the school. These are adapted for wheelchair use in the case of disabled pupils while ramps and a lift to the upper floors ensure access to all main parts of the building. Inaccessibly areas of the school are currently used by staff i.e. office space. There has been one temporary wheelchair user attending the school over the last school year, some visitors have requires the lift to access the main parts of the building.

15. How do we enable pupils with SEND to engage in activities available to those in the school who do not have SEND?

All of our extended schools activities and school visits are available to all our pupils, including our before-and after-school clubs.

All clubs, including 6 o'clock club are available for pupils with special educational needs. On applying for a club individual children with access needs will have their application considered by the SENDCO who will organise any reasonable adjustments: this may include employing additional staff for children receiving high needs funding. In many cases children in receipt of high needs funding can access clubs without the additional adult support that they require during lessons.

Breakfast club is offered to all pupils attending the school with the provision of additional adult supervision where required. The school will endeavour to provide for all the needs of all children attending breakfast club so long as it is financially reasonable for the school to do so.

All pupils are encouraged to go on our residential trip(s) to Chigwell Campsite and Fairplay House.

All pupils are encouraged to take part in sports day/school plays/special workshops, etc.

No pupil is ever excluded from taking part in these activities because of their SEND or disability.

16. What support for improving emotional and social development is on offer?

The school aim to create a pastorally supportive environment supported by Place2Think. Place 2Be offer counselling opportunities to pupils and parents alike. Place 2Talk is accessible for all children at playtimes. The school also run other interventions to support social and emotional development.

We provide support for pupils to improve their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- Pupils with SEND are encouraged to be part of the school council
- Pupils with SEND are also encouraged to be part in clubs to promote teamwork / building friendships etc.

We have a zero tolerance approach to bullying.

17. What specialist expertise do we consult with?

When a child's needs are such that specialist expertise might prove useful, outside agencies have been consulted. The agencies consulted are:

- The child development team (NHS)
- Speech and language therapy service (NHS)
- Occupational therapy service (NHS)
- Physiotherapy (NHS)
- Audiology (NHS)
- Consultants at hospitals (NHS)
- Language, communication and interaction service (LA)
- Complex needs and dyslexia service (LA)
- Behaviour support service (LA)
- Reintegration into education service (LA)
- Educational psychology service (LA)

The school works closely with outside agencies by holding joint planning meetings, fostering positive relationships with link professionals and ensuring clear communication via the link professional. All outside agencies that are currently involved with a child will be invited to annual review meetings.

18. How do we deal with concerns and complaints about SEND provision?

Complaints about SEND provision in our school should be made to the class teacher in the first instance. They will then be referred to the Trust's Concerns and Complaints Policy and Procedures.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions
- Provision of education and associated services
- Making reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services

19. What is the contact detail of support services for parents of pupils with SEND?

Parents are signposted to support services through the Newham parent partnership service at:

Newham Parent Partnership Service
The Web Building
49-51 The Broadway
Stratford
London
E15 4BQ
